

Fisher Jenkin Workplace Safety encourages and assists employers to proactively manage workplace safety risks whilst achieving compliance with obligations and responsibilities that employers must embrace in today's business environment.

Workplace Safety Services Summary

Our services span investigation, assessment, documentation, implementation and compliance. We strive to deliver practical, achievable and affordable solutions and often perform services in conjunction with client and workplace representatives. We modify services to meet clients needs.

Client Assistance: Assist clients with safety related matters such as regulatory, authority and client registrations, tenders and tender schedules.

Compliance, Building & Structure Design: Designers achieve safety compliance with legislative requirements (eg Section 28, Victorian OH&S Act 2004) by assessing design information for the operational building or structure.

Compliance, Construction Site: Owners, developers, managers and contractors achieve safety compliance with construction site requirements by detailed inspection, assessment and advice.

Construction Safety Management: Manage construction safety risks including contractor tender OHS assessment, construction site risk assessment, safety plan assessment, contractor induction and ongoing construction site compliance (see above).

Hazard Management: Manage specific hazards for access, asbestos, confined spaces, falls, hazardous situations, hazardous substances, manual handling, plant, roofs, safe work method statements and other hazards.

Injury Incident Investigation: Undertake incident, injury, near miss or system failure event investigation to determine cause and future management options including Incident debrief where required.

Project Services: Undertake safety projects by taking responsibility to plan, schedule, specify, procure, supervise, administer and deliver outcomes through program development, works programs and plant safety and signage.

Safety Management Systems Development & Implementation: Provides research, development, customisation and implementation of online or offline Safety Plans including third party support software and assisting clients with system certification and federal safety commission accreditation.

Safety Management Systems Industry Generic: Affordable, offline industry based generic safety plans with accompanying update, advice, customisation and training services for building & construction, manufacturing, hospitality, jobbing, retail & wholesale, professional and agriculture contracting.

Safety Management Systems Training: Customised training of client specific or industry generic safety management systems.

Strategy Consulting: Assist clients with strategic initiatives through issue identification, gap analysis, performance reporting, development and delivery of management options, etc.

Workplace Assessment: Manage workplace safety risks through a workplace assessments that provides a base line measure of current workplace and activity compliance with recommendations and suggestions to achieve compliance.